AGRICULTURAL.

PLANTING CORN TOO DEEP.

Many of the readers of the Farmers' Home Journal, have, probably, every year noticed that, in a majority of our fields, there are patches on which the corn, even if it comes up well, when about to form the second set of leaves, will remain stationary, not growing any more as to be perceptible, for several weeks. We have often heard farmers speak of this strange fact, but none of them were able to give a satisfactory explanation of it. It was so, but they could not tell why it was so.

The same thing has been noticed elsewhere, and a correspondent of the Practical Farmer offers the solution given below. If any of our readers have a better one, we would like to hear from them.

Such plots are usually found to be those portions of the field which are "in the best order," that is, the most mellow, preventing the best covering for the hoe, and consequently are usually covered much deeper than where the ground is less mellow and the covering more difficult.

Having observed the above, I was led to suppose that the depth to which the grain was covered exercised more influence upon the future growth of the plant than was generally supposed. I tried the experiment of planting at different depths, and as some of my readers may not have tried it, will give the result.

Grain carefully planted three inches deep, came up two days behind the regular planting, and grew well for a short time, without any outward change in appearance. It was then, however, that it began to show signs of distress. From twelve to twenty days, when it would again start and grow as before; if after growing a few days, earth was again drawn up to it to the depth of two and a half or three inches, the same as has been before alluded to as occurring in our corn fields where the covering has been done with a hoe.

Examination will show that, no matter at what depth the grain is planted, the first joint is formed at about one and a half inches from the grain; and if this joint is at or above the surface of the ground, the plant will form the joint and go on growing as though nothing unusual had happened; but, whenever this joint is formed under the surface, the stalk will remain stationary a new set of roots strike out from the joint, and the old one decays. During this time the young plant makes no perceptible growth above the ground. This may be carried on indefinitely, by simply drawing enough earth to the plant to raise the surface above the place for the formation of the next joint, as has been proved by your friend in Chester County.—Farmers' Home Journal.

A MODEL FARM.—The Harrisburg (Pa.) State Guard says: "The model farm in Chester county, as we have already stated, will be ready for operations as soon as the weather permits. J. Lay Darling has been chosen President, and in a letter recently published, he says the farm is already stocked and equipped; the programme of experiments for the current year laid out, and with the opening of spring, operations will commence. The great objects of this experimental farm are well understood. Many of the unsettled questions in practical agriculture will be here solved by actual experiment, such as the cultivation of cereal and root crops; the growing of fruits; the best method of feeding cattle; the comparative value of manure, and of proper mode of applying them; the latest improved implements, &c. Managed, as we have every reason to believe, this experimental farm will be, it must become a point of immense interest and importance to the practical farmers throughout the State of Pennsylvania, and for this reason it has strong claims upon their cordial and active co-operation.

MANAGEMENT OF POULTRY.—Solon Robinson, in his book, Facts for Farmers, says:

If you don't want hens in mischief, feed them; and at times when it is really necessary that them in a poultry yard and feed them; and adopt this simple rule for feeding fowls, known to most housewives in the country who have charge of poultry, but it may be useful to amateurs, and as it is very short we print it. Here it is: Don't feed too much. That is all; though we may add that food should never be given to fowls until they are hungry enough to "run crazy" after it, and just as soon as they stop running crazy, you stop throwing feed, and never—no, never—leave feed lying by your fowls "for them to eat at leisure."

A WILLY ACT.

The following telegram explains itself:

New York, March 26.—To Geo. F. Train, Dublin Jail.—What sum required? Credit American Consul for you to return.

Mrs. G. F. T.

REPLY.

DUBLIN JAIL.—No money wanted. Political insolvent because these debts. Come over. Geo. FRANCIS TRAIN.

It is not every wife that has the rhino to act so promptly, nor every one, we fear, what would come so promptly to the rescue. But Train won't pay, because he says:

"If the hell-hounds swindled me out of ten pounds it would make me miserable for life. I always pay 100 cents on a dollar, never two for one. I intend to make insolvent respectable."

PASSION WEEK AT JERUSALEM.—During Passion Week, Jerusalem is lined, in the neighborhood of the Holy Sepulchre, with stalls, booths and bazaar where are sold crosses and beads from Mecca, mother-of-pearl images from Bethlehem, and bitumen crosses from the Dead Sea. Caravans come in from the East; camels from Damascus; and Belshazzar's goblets from the desert, their riders clad in yellow shawls and black abbas. The wild asses of Hebron, with the beautiful Bethlehem women, dressed in their white robes bordered with red, and who claim a descent from the Crusaders, mingle with the motley crowd of friars, beggars, and soldiers.

The number of lawyers in the United States is reported at 31,027, and their aggregate annual earnings at $63,072,000, an average for each of $2,000. Of these lawyers, 2,692 are residents of New York city, 695 of Philadelphia, 648 of Boston, and 300 of Pittsburgh. Other American cities have smaller number of lawyers.

Few ladies are so modest as to refuse to sit in the lap of luxury.

PROSPECTUS.

It will be seen by the statement hereto contained that the organization of this company was a necessary growing out of the commercial and business wants of the country, imperatively demanding an increase of telegraph facilities at reasonable rates.

Competition versus monopoly.

1. The whole telegraph system of the U. S. is now in the hands of one company. The evils inseparable from such a gigantic and dangerous monopoly are already unnumbered and increasing. Relief can be found only in legitimate competition.

Distribution of Stock.

2. It is proposed that the benefits of this company shall be enjoyed, not by a few favored persons, but by the business men of the country, whose interest it is designed to promote, and whose liberal patronage will be secured by the distribution of the stock to place the stock at all commercial points. It will be distributed to Bankers, Merchants, Manufacturers, and others in limited amounts.

The Capital Stock.

(3.) In Ten Millions of Dollars, divided into shares of One Hundred Dollars each.

4. One per cent of the stock will be required on subscription, and subsequent calls, not to exceed five per cent per month, will be made by the Board of Directors, from time to time, as may be necessary to supply funds to construct and equip the lines; but no calls will be made after the one per cent is paid until the entire capital stock has been subscribed.

Actual Capital Required.

5. The company confidently believes that thirty-five per cent of the capital stock will be subscribed, and fully equip Twenty-five Thousand miles of wire, which will connect all the commercial centers and important places in the United States. This opinion rests upon the most reliable estimates and responsible offers to construct and equip the lines.

Dividends.

6. In all cases the net earnings of this company will be applied to the payment of dividends on its capital stock, and in no event will earnings be diverted to the construction of new lines.

Income.

7. With the stock in the hands of the active business men of the country, exerting their influence to augment its business, and with a range of Twenty-five Thousand Miles of Wire equipped and in operation, the company believes that, at reasonable rates, the business will pay liberal dividends on its entire capital stock.

Reason for the Belief.

(8.) May be found in the enormous profits of every considerable telegraph line operated on this continent. The present telegraph monopoly has "watered" its stock to the extent of over one thousand per cent on the amount paid in; and still it pays, on its stock thus inflated, satisfactory dividends. Our company will duplicate all the remunerative lines now operated by the monopoly, and subscribers will pay for our stock only the exact cost of our lines.

Additional Reasons.

9. The existing telegraph monopolies have never sought to supply adequately the demand for the use of the telegraph, much less have they attempted to stimulate such demand by an increase of facilities and a reduction of rates. While their facilities have remained almost constant, their rates have steadily advanced, until the use of the telegraph has come to be a prodigious tax upon the commercial necessities of the country. An advance in rates is their uniform expedient for limiting the amount of their business to their restricted facilities.

Increased Facilities and Lower Rates.

10. Every intelligent man knows that an enterprise founded upon the necessities of trade has a healthier and more durable basis when it aims to do a constantly increasing business at fair rates than when it does merely a restricted business at exorbitant and increasing rates. The success of cheap postage in Europe and America seems never to have been thought of by the telegraph monopolists. It is believed that if ten times the present telegraph facilities were furnished to the public at one-tenth of the present rates, the increase of business would justify the change.

Our Proposed Telegraphic Range.

11. Trunk lines throughout the United States and Territories, which shall ultimately connect with lines to Europe, Asia, and South America.

When to be Done.

12. Within one year from the time the capital stock is subscribed, the company expects to have finished twenty-five thousand miles of wires of the best materials, equipped with instruments of the latest improvements, and the whole range in successful operation.

Certainty of Success.

13. In addition to his regular dividends, shall receive an equitable share on the amount of business furnished by himself, payable annually; thus, the stock being widely distributed, every stockholder having a special interest to augment the business of the company, success is deemed inevitable.

Distribution of Directors.

14. To secure in the management an equitable representation of the stockholders throughout the country, the large commercial centers will be represented in its Board of Directors, and local agents will be appointed on the recommendation of the stockholders in the various localities, and the operations of the company thus become general in its management as well as its business.

The Company Permanent.

15. Heretofore every new telegraphic enterprise has been a mere speculation, absorbed by the dominant monopoly; but the third session of the act of Congress which confers upon this company its valuable franchises absolutely requires it to maintain a separate and independent existence. [See the Act below.]

The Old System.

16. Under the telegraphic companies have been organized by a few wealthy capitalists; they have been run in a consolidated manner, and a Board of Management, they are made up of opposition companies, with parties, interests, and useless routes, costly to maintain. Their liabilities are heavy, and they employ a multiplicity of officers who receive large salaries, yet they pay large dividends. With their capital stock "watered," amounting now in the aggregate to Forty-two Millions of Dollars, they seek to monopolize the business at exorbitant rates, and thus benefit the few at the expense of the many.

TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING TO their friends and patrons that they are always on hand and ready for business, and will attend promptly to all orders for work. We shall incur no liabilities beyond our means in the treasury, and we hope by energy, economy, dispatch, and careful management, to be enabled to compete successfully with the present consolidated monopoly, and to furnish the public cheaper and better facilities of telegraphic communication.

The Prospect.

17. The business of telegraphing is in its infancy. It must rapidly increase in the immediate future and yield still greater returns. The business of the Southern States having been suspended during the war will be re-established. Lines of telegraph are projected and in process of construction to Europe, Asia, and South America, which, when completed, will at once materially add to the telegraphic business of the country. The proposed routes of our range are annually becoming more and more numerous. Cheaper rates and more rapid, certain and reliable facilities will greatly popularize the telegraph and insure its substitution for the mails for the purpose of carrying commercial correspondence. All these considerations point to our future as an important and steadily growing business. This is the golden opportunity for inaugurating a telegraphic enterprise of the character and magnitude of the one now proposed.

An Extraordinary Advantage.

19. On the application of The National Telegraph Company, Congress at its recent session enacted The National Telegraph Law, which is printed herewith. The existing consolidated monopoly opposed the passage of this law with all the influence and power at its command, but the public interest prevailed, and we have now a national recognition of the importance of our enterprise with the most valuable franchises ever conferred upon a telegraphic company.

The National Telegraph Company fully accepted the terms of the Law, July 30th, 1895, by filing their written acceptance with the Postmaster General of the United States.

Subscribers should in all cases transmit funds to the Treasurer of this company, Frederick Prentice, Esq., No. 26 Pine street, New York.

All other communications should be directed to George B. Walters, Secretary, National Telegraph Company, 64 Broadway, New York.

Whenever subscribers desire so to do, they can pay at once thirty-five per cent on the full amount of their subscription, and receive certificates of stock issued by the company, and in all cases were thirty-five per cent has been paid in, and the Treasurer's receipts returned, certificates will be issued to holders of the receipts, or their order.

Your attention is called to the papers accompanying this, and a prompt response is necessary to ensure a certain participation in the benefits of this organization. Extract from the United States Statutes at large, vol. 10, page 240, as follows:

An Act to establish certain Post Routes and for other purposes, approved March 3, 1893.

Page 255, sec. 3.—And be it further enacted, that all the Railroads and parts of Railroads, which are now or may hereafter be in operation, be, and the same are hereby declared Post Routes.

THE NATIONAL TELEGRAPH LAW.

AN ACT to aid in the construction of Telegraph Lines, and to secure to the Government the use of the same for Postal, Military, and other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That any Telegraph company, or companies, which may hereafter be organized, under the laws of any State in this Union, shall have the right to construct, through and over any portion of the public domain of the United States, over and along any of the military or post routes of the United States, which have been or may hereafter be declared such by act of Congress, and over, under, or across the navigable waters of the United States; provided, That such lines of telegraph shall be so constructed and maintained as not to obstruct the navigation of such streams and waters, or interfere with the ordinary travel on such military or post routes. And any of its stations, not exceeding forty acres for each station, shall have the right to take and use from such public lands the necessary stone, timber, and other materials for its posts, poles, stations, and other uses in the construction, maintenance, and operation of said lines of telegraph, and any of its stations, not exceeding forty acres for each station; but such stations shall not be within fifteen miles of each other.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That telegraphic communications between the several departments of the Government of the United States and their officers and agents shall, in their transmission over the lines of said companies, have priority over all other business, and shall be sent at rates to be annually fixed by the Postmaster General.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the right and privilege hereby granted shall not be transferred by any company selling under this act, to any corporation, association, or person; provided, however, that the United States may at any time after the expiration of five years from the date of the passage of this act, for postal, military, or other purposes, purchase all the telegraphic lines, property, and effects of any or all of said companies at an appraised value, to be ascertained by five competent disinterested persons, two of whom shall be selected by the Postmaster General of the United States, and the four so previously selected.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That before any Telegraph company shall exercise any of the powers or privileges conferred by this act, such company shall file their written acceptance with the Postmaster General of the United States, and shall be bound by its terms and obligations imposed by this act.

Approved, July 24th, 1895.

Stock may now be subscribed in this company at their office in the city of New York, or at 208 Main street, Louisville, Ky.

The Trial of the President.

Before our next issue the trial of President Johnson by the Senate of the United States for high crimes and misdemeanors will be closed. On Monday last the managers of the impeachment and counsel for the President announced that the evidence upon each side was closed. Wednesday, Mr. Belmont, of the managers, opened the argument for the prosecution, reading his address from printed copy. Mr. Nelson for the defense follows him. The Senate has allowed all the managers and all the counsel to deliver oral arguments and to file and have them printed. It will probably be the latter part of the coming week before a verdict will be rendered. We see no reason to change the opinion we expressed before the commencement of the trial, that the conviction of the President was predetermined. That the trial was a mere formality, and that the Senate was well whipped to action by the party last week might confidently look to see the President go forth declared not guilty.

Their charge that the removal of Stanton without the consent of the Senate was a violation of the tenure of office act, the President's counsel have disproved by the language of the act itself, and from the official declarations of those who have a right to decide. Thus, this alleged crime falls to the ground.

In several articles they charged the President with a willful intent to trample on the constitution and laws, and sought to prove it by testimony. Whatever may have been the President's intention, the testimony failed utterly to sustain the charge. In fact, the whole of the evidence, indicated clearly that the sole purpose in view was to test the constitutionality of the tenure of office act, to get the question in the court.

The only circumstance of the trial which looks unfavorable to the cause of the impeachers, is the fact, that when the Managers attempted to exclude all exculpatory evidence, the Chief Justice promptly decided the same to be admissible, and was always sustained by the Senate by a vote ranging from 20 to 27. We argue no longer on this, however. It was policy in the politicians of the Senate to give the trial an outward show of fairness and impartiality, and to blind the people to the real intent.

Next week the verdict will be rendered, and notwithstanding all the evidence, and every sense of justice demands the President's acquittal. We certainly expect his conviction. It takes two-thirds to convict, however, and many Radicals and Democrats are of the opinion that the impeachers cannot carry the two-thirds.

If the President shall be deposed, we apprehend no great change in the affairs of the Government. Radical policy has been as effectually carried out with Mr. Johnson, President, as it can be with Mr. Wade. Mr. Johnson will gracefully retire to his home in East Tennessee, and quietly await the verdict of the American people in November.

Democratic Victories.

Illinois is getting on her feet again. At Pekin, on Monday, the Democrats carried every ward and made a gain of 300. On the same day, Bloomington, before the nursery of Radicalism, elected a Democratic Mayor by a majority of 255. At Quincy an exciting campaign closed by the election of a Democratic Mayor by a majority of about a thousand—a gain of more than 300. And, to cap the climax, Chicago, on Tuesday, elected the Democratic ticket by a handsome majority. At what appears to be the "day of jubilee" has come in Illinois.

Indemnity in Tennessee.

The Tennessee Legislature at its last session passed a law for indemnity to loyal men for property lost during the war, and the Governor has appointed a Commissioner in each county to collect and audit these claims. One of these three dollars-a-day fellows has given a rustication of the act which we suppose will be adopted by the party, declaring the supporters of Andrew Johnson disloyal and not entitled to indemnity. No matter how much sacrifice a man may have made for the government, how long he may have carried a musket in its defense, how many limbs lost, or how much property destroyed, he has no right to remuneration unless he acts with the party in power. The Nashville Union & Dispatch publishes the following communication from Wayne county, to the General Claims Commissioner:

Waynesboro, Tenn., April 13, 1868. Hon. Thomas Waters, Nashville, Tenn. Sir: A number of Federal soldiers and Union citizens of this county, who have been unconditional Union men from the beginning, but who are now Conservative men, are wishing to prove their claims under the indemnity act. The Commissioners for this county, however, decide that no man is loyal at the present time unless he is in favor of the Congressional policy and against the policy of the President.

Please give us your decision upon this matter, as it is likely to delay a number of our loyal citizens from getting any remuneration for the loss of their property.

A wife's farewell to her husband every morning. Ray, Ind.

Our Railroad Troubles.

The Northwestern Railroad troubles have not yet been brought to a decision, and our enterprising town remains isolated—cut off from all railroad advantages, and we have now only the additional discouraging information that the road is likely to be stopped entirely for the want of money.

The suit before Judge Trigg at Nashville has not yet come up. On Monday the Solicitors for the city of Hickman filed a supplementary bill against Gen. Fink and others, setting forth the additional fact that the Receiver had stopped running trains to Hickman, and made connection with the Mobile & Ohio road at Union City, reaching the Mississippi river at Columbus. That said Receiver, instead of running over the road on which he was acting as Receiver, and reaching the Mississippi river at only fourteen miles, has cut off Hickman, thus cutting off the Company's workshops and breaking up definite arrangements which had been made for freight and travel, and has made an arrangement with a different Company by which a large amount is necessarily sacrificed to the company, unless it is covered by 100 per cent. for a railroad company to pay freights over other roads than to run its own, the distance being twice as great.

Telegraph facilities are also cut off, and the city is isolated. But the Senate has not well whipped to action by the party last week might confidently look to see the President go forth declared not guilty.

Their charge that the removal of Stanton without the consent of the Senate was a violation of the tenure of office act, the President's counsel have disproved by the language of the act itself, and from the official declarations of those who have a right to decide. ## The Presidency.

Who will be the Democratic nominee? An intelligent correspondent of the Louisville Courier, writing from Washington, gives the appended record of Conservative sentiment at the national capital on the Presidential question. It will be seen that it is getting to be well understood that Pendleton cannot be the Democratic nominee.

Notwithstanding the complications and uncertainties of "impeachment," which arrest the public mind, there is always time enough for our native politicians to canvass the chances of the different aspirants for the nomination of the Presidency by the Democratic Convention, and for their respective friends to work for them. The friends of Mr. Pendleton are firmly fixed in their adherence to him, but only the most sanguine of them are confident he will be chosen. There is no doubt but what he would be the favorite of the Democratic party, if there was not apprehensions of his defeat by means of the "bond holders" in the East, which he has exerted against him. And even admitting that the latter would change him, certainly there are grave doubts in the minds of his friends that he can carry as large a proportion of a certain class of votes as could some one else. Hence, in the discussions here among our people, it is constantly urged that Pendleton is not the man.

When the Democratic Convention must be held from other quarters, some one must be presented who can command that support.

The most prominent among those whose names are mentioned are General Hancock, McClellan and Blair, and the opinion is rapidly gaining ground that the first named general will be the nominee of the Convention. McClellan lost prestige by his defeat (which, by the way, also applies to Mr. Pendleton) while the "Blair family," with their support of Mr. Lincoln, and their record in the military criticism, which that of Grant will not. His administration of affairs in New Orleans, exhibited a high order of ability and won golden opinions from both friend and foe. With Hancock for President and John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, for Vice President—with those old revolutionary names we could get into the fight with a confidence that we would win—and that is half the battle.

I ought also to say that the name of General Dix, of New York, now Minister to Paris, has been spoken of, and it is said Mr. Seymour, of New York, favors his nomination. But Gen. Dix has no elements of strength; indeed about all that can be said of him is that he is the author of "If any one attempts to pull down the American flag, shoot him down by the spot." Of course this is a very good sentiment, and all very well said, but then it requires something more solid than this to overcome Gen. Grant and his Radical cohorts—nevertheless General Dix has his friends.

A distinguished Radical, once a member of the Cabinet, has written a letter arguing that Mr. Fillmore could carry a large number of "old line Whites" who are now united with the Republican party. But as this gentleman was an old Whig, and a Scotchman during the war, and has never been North since, I think it is fair to assume his suggestion is based on his own partial views rather than on a knowledge of what is really needed in the candidate who must not only deserve but command success.

In a work recently published in England, entitled "The Irish Union the Tories," occurs this passage of history: "Believing that all disorders of Ireland were to be traced either to the neglect or the misconduct of the English despots, bishops, captains, or settlers, who had failed to carry out the instructions with the diligence and success expected of them, the government had produced little effect upon the Irish people. The Tories, however, discussed at the continued hostilities of the Indians and the prospects of the forces being abandoned, nearly all of them have since left for Sweetwater on Wind river. A large number of the Tories, however, have been found in the vicinity of Phil Kearney."—Cherokee paper.

A Historical Parallel.

THE KUKLUX KLAN.

The mystic surrounding the Kuklux Klan, afford a splendid opportunity to newspaper writers to get up sensations. A correspondent of the New York Herald, who signs himself Gabriel, G. G. T. & V., makes an exposition of the Klan. He assures the Herald that the organization numbers seven hundred thousand members, and that it is spread over the whole country, from Maine to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Only white citizens of the United States can become members, and Catholics, negroes and infidels can not. The meaning given to the term Kuklux Klan is "a circle of friends," and the object of the society is to checkmate and to act as a counterpoise to the Radical secret societies of the Loyal League and Grand Army of the Republic, for the purpose of perpetuating constitutional liberty.

Size of Mr. McGee's Brain.—The physician who made a post mortem examination of the body of Hon. M. McGee, lately assassinated in Memphis, found the weight of his brain to be fifty-one ounces. The mean weight of the human brain is forty-five ounces. That of Daniel O'Connell weighed fifty-four ounces. Depressure is fifty-eight. The naturalist, Cuvier, weighed fifty-one. The brain of Mr. McGee appears to be one of the largest recorded. The physician who examined him found the cranium very thin, almost transparent. It is stated that a thin body envelope is the indication of a superior mind, and the thinner it is the stronger is the talent. If this is an appropriate and scientific accuracy in calling stupid people and dunces "thick-headed."

Another terrible railroad slaughter occurred early Wednesday morning, on the line of the Erie Railway, sixteen miles west of Port Jervis. The accident was caused by a broken rail. Four cars were thrown down an embankment twenty feet. The company acknowledge that thirteen men were killed and fifty-two wounded. One of the cars took fire, and several persons are reported to have been burned up.

After a hard struggle, lasting for seven or eight years, the anti-slavery citizens of Danville, Ky., succeeded in carrying the election of their ticket for Congress on Saturday last, and the new members will at once proceed to close up the liquor shops in the town.

All the Intelligence.

The Virginia convention for framing a new constitution, under the military reconstruction law, still holds forth. As our readers do not often enjoy the privilege of reading its proceedings, we give the following extracts, taken from a Richmond paper, of an incident which occurred on Saturday last. The abbreviation C. B. M. means Carpet Bag Man, and indicates that the member is a non-resident Radical.

Pending Mr. Sweeney's speech, the negro Bayne offered the following resolution: "Whereas, Mr. E. Gibson (delegate of Giles) did declare that a fraud had been committed by the chairman (Mr. Allan, of Prince Edward), of a committee relative to printing and money thereto, therefore,

"Resolved, That the said E. Gibson be and is hereby ordered to report to this Convention, in writing, by one o'clock to-day, all the evidence he has showing any fraud committed in the premises. Failing to comply with this order, he is expelled from this Convention, and he is expelled or receive such penalty as the convention may inflict."—Exclamation. When this resolution was offered, Mr. Gibson asked leave to make an explanation. The convention refused to allow him the privilege of so doing. He then said if the convention rejected this resolution and refused to his explanation, he would be compelled to do so. It was composed of a set of words, and he had heretofore concealed. Knowing that he had to leave on Monday morning, these words were taken down. White, C. B. M., then offered the following: "Whereas, the gentleman from Giles, Mr. E. Gibson, has grossly insulted his house by using disorderly and improper language, which was disrespectful to the members of this house, therefore,

"Resolved, That the gentleman from Giles, Mr. E. Gibson, be and hereby expelled from this Convention." White, C. B. M., moved to further suspend the rules, in order that his resolution might be considered. The motion was lost by a vote of 40 to 32 yeas. It required a two-thirds vote.

News of the Day. The Georgia election commenced Monday. It is reported that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad contemplates building a branch road from Paris to Jackson, thus connecting with the Mississippi River Railroad, and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and the Kentucky and Tennessee Railroad. All agree that the fruit will be plenty this summer if it escapes further vicissitudes. Tennessee seems to have suffered more from the unseasonable frost than any other section, except Indiana, Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. We draw our supplies of early fruit from that region, and would get a hundred fold more if we had the slightest talk of and altogether illusive and tantalizing Southern railroad connection.

New Gold Mines.

For some time past some Arapahoe Indians have been in the habit of trading gold to the postmaster and others at Fort Phil Kearney. Many of them had their little buckskin pouches containing from $100 to $200 worth of the precious metal. The gold is of the description known as coarse scale gold, and some of it was mixed with small nuggets. During the winter of 1866-67, a party of the Arapahoes promised to guide a party of miners, who at Phil Kearney, to the spot where the gold was located. The spot where the gold was located, and before all the preparations were completed, as the other Indians frightened him by their threats. The men, however, had set out on their expedition, and accordingly determined to remain in the neighborhood of the post during the summer, and wait and see what another winter would bring forth. During the present winter the Indians refused their aid to make the expedition, and accordingly determined to remain in the neighborhood of the post during the summer, and wait and see what another winter would bring forth. ## THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE SENATE.

The announcement of the Senate, who had fallen on the battle-field of Tennessee were being gathered and shipped to other points, to be converted into soil fertilizers, has created a sensation in Pittsburgh. The Mayor of that city has ordered the destruction of two large loads of bones which had arrived at that point from Nashville, and will make public the result.

ONE OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

One of the County Commissioners elected in Nashville is a negro. Troops from Middle and East Tennessee are being moved into Georgia.

THE NEW PLATFORM.

The issues of the great contest at hand are and should be these only or chiefly: 1. Opposition to Congressional usurpation of rights. 2. Immediate restoration of the unity and peace of the nation. The method of victory is to combine the strength of all those, whatever their past party ties, who unite in that opposition and this demand.

EXTRA SPECIAL NOTICE.

Beware of Counterfeit Smith Tonic Syrup has been counterfeited, and the counterfeiter brought to grief. The genuine article must have Dr. John Bull's private stamp on each bottle. Dr. John Bull only has the right to manufacture and sell this Tonic Syrup. Examine well the label on each bottle. If any private stamp is on the bottle, you will be deceived. See my column advertisement, and my show card. I will prosecute any one infringing on my right. The genuine Smith's Tonic Syrup can only be prepared by myself. The public's servant. DR. JOHN BULL, Louisville, Ky.

The Presidency Abolished.

A few weeks since, says an exchange, Senator Sumner presented a proposition to the Senate to abolish the office of President of the United States. His proposition was passed over temporarily, but has since been renewed in the effort to impeach and remove President Johnson. It is plain enough to all intelligent people that if Johnson is removed by the Senate, the office of President will be virtually abolished. The person who will succeed as nominal President, Benjamin F. Wade, Ohio, a member of the Senate and identified with the anti-slavery majority in Congress in all its recent action. It was intended by the fraud of Sumner that there should be a permanent chief magistrate of the Union, and not in his place a member of Congress, who, while acting as President, would still be a Senator. It is thus that the functions of the two branches of the government will be consolidated in one, the Presidency being in fact abolished. Whether the contemplation of such a spectacle is satisfactory to the people time must develop.

The Chicago Commercial says: The fruit crop, so far, is substantially safe. The late frost of snow and frost was supposed to have destroyed the germs, but as a general thing they escaped, because not far enough to be killed in the soil. We have reliable reports from various sections of Ohio, Indiana, Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. All agree that the fruit will be plenty this summer if it escapes further vicissitudes. Tennessee seems to have suffered more from the unseasonable frost than any other section, except Indiana, Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. We draw our supplies of early fruit from that region, and would get a hundred fold more if we had the slightest talk of and altogether illusive and tantalizing Southern railroad connection.

THE GEORGIA ELECTION.

It is reported that the Louisville and Nashville Railroad contemplates building a branch road from Paris to Jackson, thus connecting with the Mississippi River Railroad, and the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and the Kentucky and Tennessee Railroad. All agree that the fruit will be plenty this summer if it escapes further vicissitudes. Tennessee seems to have suffered more from the unseasonable frost than any other section, except Indiana, Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. We draw our supplies of early fruit from that region, and would get a hundred fold more if we had the slightest talk of and altogether illusive and tantalizing Southern railroad connection.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE SENATE.

The announcement of the Senate, who had fallen on the battle-field of Tennessee were being gathered and shipped to other points, to be converted into soil fertilizers, has created a sensation in Pittsburgh. The Mayor of that city has ordered the destruction of two large loads of bones which had arrived at that point from Nashville, and will make public the result.

Every Body Read This! RENEWED Cough and Lung Remedy for the cure of Consumption and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Read what Mr. Duran says: "Rheumatism, Laryngitis, etc., Aug. 14, 1867. Messrs. A. N. Duran & Co. I will say that I have been dealing in medicines for the last fourteen years, and have never before found preparations that would equal your 'Pain Killer' and 'Lung Remedy.' They not only sell very cheaply, but give the most perfect satisfaction in every case that has come to my knowledge. In my practice I very seldom prescribe any medicine, but with your 'Pain Killer' and 'Lung Remedy,' having entire confidence in them, and knowing that they would produce a permanent cure, I freely use them in my daily practice. Especially have I used the 'Lung Remedy,' and with the most unbounded success. As an expectorant it is most certainly far ahead of any similar preparations I have ever known. The 'Pain Killer' is the most valuable medicine I have for sale, and many families in this vicinity would as soon think of being out of beef or bread as of having a box of 'Pain Killer' in the house. Yours truly, ISAAC A. DURAN, M.D. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.

A CALL FROM MINNESOTA.

Kingston, P. O., Mecklenburg, Minn., April 7, '68. Mr. M. L. Duplan writes: I do not know that Bull's Worm Destroyer is any more recommended than it has been long since by its own merits, but will state that my little son, aged about three years, was severely attacked last fall, and was with him light spasms, or perhaps more properly fits, lasting from half an hour to one and a half hours, at the same time the child had strong symptoms of Worms. My physician, one of the best in this part of the country—examined all his pills and the Materia Medica to expel the worms, and entirely failed to bring any. I thought 'John Bull' could do it, and gave the child the contents of three boxes, in triple doses, right away, with happy results. The child has not had a spasm for over three months, and instead of the wasted mass that he was, is now well and hearty. John Bull did it. Yours truly, M. L. DUPLAN.

THE HICKMAN COURIER

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1868.

Divine Service.

Metropolitan Church, J. R. Harris, Pastor. Services every Sunday at 11 A. M., and 7 P. M. Sabbath School—J. A. M. W. L. McCaskey, Superintendent.

Churchman's Prescriptions.

Parsonage at Hickman, Ky., on the first Sabbath in each month by W. D. McQuinn, Pastor.

Fulton Democratic Committee.

The Democratic State Central Committee at Frankfort have appointed the following Executive Committee for Fulton county: Henry A. Taylor, Chairman; George Warren, John A. Wilson, G. S. Miles, W. D. McQuinn, James H. Craig.

Quarterly Meeting commences at the Methodist Church to-day.

Elder E. Bynum will preach to-day and to-morrow.

MATTHEW WOOLLEN MILLS.

The woolen factory recently erected at Mayfield is now in active operation. They manufacture jeans, bannets, linseys, cambrics, quilts, blankets, etc., etc., that will compare favorably with that manufactured elsewhere.

Is anticipation of more favorable and pleasant weather, the celebration by the scholars of the Sabbath Schools has been postponed to the 14th of May instead of the 11th, as before announced.

At the same time a Concert and Exhibition will be given at night, consisting of Music, Tablans, Chorus, etc., particulars of which will be given in due time.

OUR MARKET.—The following are the prices now current at Hickman: Sugar, 20 cents; Coffee, 30 cents; Salt, 10 cents; Flour, 10 cents; Bacon, 10 cents; Eggs, 20 cents; Butter, 50 cents.

REMOVAL.—The Post Office has been removed from the old stand to E. Case's new brick building.

Mr. Case proposes to continue the tailoring business, and has now on hand a small and well selected assortment of dry goods.

FARM PROSPECTS.—A larger breadth of land will be cultivated this year in Fulton county than for many years previous.

In most neighborhoods not only the old land will be cultivated, but new ground has been cleared and will be brought into requisition.

Good News.—If you want cheap home-made Furniture, call on Charles Oswald at his new building.

The indications are that Hon. Oscar Turner, of Ballard, and Judge J. M. Bigger, of Paducah, will be the opposing candidates for Congress in this District. Both of these gentlemen have warm and influential supporters, and their respective friends appear desirous for them to make the race unintermitted by a convention. There is an absolute necessity for a convention in this district, and it would probably be well to let the people choose their representative.

HON. L. S. TOLSON was a guest of Chief Justice Chase at one of his receptions last week. Mr. Chase is beginning to fraternize with Democrats.

Judge Trimble is expected home soon. It is understood that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.—We learn that a proposition has been submitted for the holding of a Convention to nominate a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney in this District. By the ruling of the State Central Committee the chairman of the County Committees compose a committee with authority to call such a Convention. The Convention, if called, will no doubt be held at Mayfield.

The steamer St. Patrick was burned to the water's edge on the Arkansas shore opposite Memphis on the 18th inst. Her machinery was saved in a damaged condition. The fire was doubtless the work of an incendiary. The boat was owned by Mike Byrne, of Memphis, and valued at $35,000; insured in Love's Agency at St. Louis for $22,000.

PROPOSERS.—Persons having Furniture repaired can save time and money by calling at Oswald's Furniture Manufactory.

DRY GOODS REGULATOR.—Miss Amborg, the acknowledged regulator of the Drygoods trade in this market, is now on hand purchasing a spring and summer stock. Large installments of her purchases have already been received, and are pronounced fully up to and well worthy the large experience and well known character of the Amborgs as dry goods merchants. This house keeps the largest stock in this section, and the leading public know well their good taste, judgment and reliability. The present heavy stock was bought with the advantage of the late decline in dry goods, which will enable them to offer superior inducements to customers.

BROKE JAIL.—Corby Elliot, and two other prisoners, broke jail at Lebanon, Ky., on the 17th inst. Corby Elliot was to have been executed on the 24th inst. He is about 23 years old; over 6 feet high; slender build, black hair and eyes, a defect in one eye, it being cocked or flared; walks a little lame, in consequence of a wound in one leg; has but little beard, thin black mustache and a small goatee, and is sallow or florid complexioned. He had on a black sheep's wool coat, of sack or box cut, parts of same cloth, and a grey vest; was bare headed, having lost his hat as he ran out of the door.

PRISONER thinks that "stuffing" improves the skin as well as the soul.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Our Circuit Court closed Thursday, after the disposition of a great amount of business. There were upon the docket 70 common law actions, 170 equity suits, and 175 Commonwealth or criminal cases. Judge Bullock presided with his usual dignity and urbanity, dispatching all the business that came before him with characteristic promptness and accuracy. He did not close his Court until he had called the entire docket, and disposed of every case. The last day was a very busy one. The actions named below were called and the following proceedings had:

Sarah Algee, and others, vs. J. H. Dadds, and others. Randle & Tyler attorneys for Algee, and A. D. Kingman for Dadds. Partition for division and sale of land. Judgment was given ordering a division of H. V. Parham's lands among his heirs at law. Also that dower in said lands be devised to his widow; and that 100 acres of land on Mad Creek be divided between Parham's heirs and Rebecca T. Rowland.
